The Therapeutic Action and the Origin of Psychic Life

Howard B. Levine, MD

TRAINING AND SUPERVISING ANALYST · BROOKLINE, MASSACHUSETTS

December 12, 2026

17:00–18:30 (CET)

Howard B. Levine is one of the most important contemporary authors in the field of psychoanalysis. His work has made a significant contribution to the understanding of the mind, especially to the understanding and transformation of unrepresented states of mind.

ABOUT THE LECTURE

The lecture explores the origin of psychic life — the capacity to experience, think and desire — and shows how therapeutic action, in Levine's transformational model, can help strengthen, restore or build this capacity when it is impaired or underdeveloped.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Howard B. Levine, MD

Howard B. Levine, M.D. is a training and supervising analyst, a member of APSA, PINE, the Contemporary Freudian Society, NYU Post-Doc's Contemporary Freudian Track, and the Massachusetts Institute for Psychoanalysis. He is a founding member of the Group for the Study of Psychoanalytic Process and the Boston Group for Psychoanalytic Studies. He serves on the Editorial Boards of the IJP and Psychoanalytic Inquiry. He is the Editor-in-Chief of the Routledge Wilfred Bion Studies Book Series and editor of the Karnac book series, French Psychoanalysis: Contemporary Voices, Classical Texts.

He is the author of Transformations de l'irreprésentable (Ithaque, 2019) and Affect, Representation and Language: Between the Silence and the Cry (Routledge, 2022), and editor of The Post-Bionian Field Theory of Antonino Ferro (Routledge, 2022) and The Freudian Matrix of André Green (Routledge/IPA, 2023).

His co-edited books include Unrepresented States and the Construction of Meaning (Karnac, 2013); On Freud's Screen Memories (Karnac, 2014); The Wilfred Bion Tradition (Karnac, 2016); Bion in Brazil (Karnac, 2017); The Clinical Thinking of W.R. Bion in Brazil (Routledge, 2024); André Green Revisited: Representation and the Work of the Negative (Karnac, 2018); Psychoanalysis of the Psychoanalytic Frame Revisited (Routledge/IPA, 2022); and Autistic Phenomena and Unrepresented States: Explorations in the Emergence of Self (Phoenix, 2023).

He has taught around the world on psychoanalytic process and technique, intersubjectivity, and contemporary thinking on unrepresented states of mind. He works in private practice in Brookline, Massachusetts.
